Concept

700 meters up by the Como-Brunate funicular, Italian architect Achille Manfredini created his original Art Nouveau masterpiece in 1910-1911. The Grand Hotel Milano was a glamorous getaway for Hollywood stars and notable directors in the 1950s. This unique legacy and location, and the vision of Florence-based engineer Emilio Polillo, have fed the fertile imagination of one of the most exciting designers creating adventurous hotel interiors today: Zoltan Varro.

Varro has transformed a classic Milanese retreat into an exclusive dream palace of 80 hotel rooms and suites, a spa open all year round, three restaurants, including a top-floor fine-dining destination, and a cocktail bar. In the building, much like in the tale of Sleeping Beauty awakening from her slumber, the boundary between inside and outside fades; within, the world of gardens comes to life, while in the hotel grounds, the designer evokes the atmosphere of villa interiors around Lake Como. The rest is natural wonder, the vistas of soaring peaks and shimmering waters seen in full perspective.

Essential details

Floors: 5

Accommodation: 80 room and suite configurations. The extensive selection of accommodation ranges from generously sized single rooms through to expansive suites. Many rooms offer private balconies or terraces with unrivalled lake and mountain views.

Restaurants and bars:

Sole Gourmet Restaurant, the hotel's flagship fine-dining destination with spectacular views from its top floor, uses prime local ingredients to celebrate the surroundings and deliver world-class cuisine.

BLU Restaurant on the ground floor offers bistro-style dishes and welcomes guests for the morning breakfast buffet, lunch and dinner.

The Negroni Bar stocks a wide selection of liqueurs and spirits so as to mix all kinds of Negroni varieties, among others. Close to the Nuvole Garden stands a Campari fountain, one of a dozen marble monuments placed in key locations around Italy to celebrate the drink's 75th anniversary in the 1930s. The Bar Negroni is set a Roman pantheon-like space, illuminated by 78 lamps, backdropped by gold and offset by a long bar counter. It operates throughout the day, also providing guests with attractive access to the BLU Restaurant and the Orangery.

Hotel guests and visitors can reach the Bruschetta from outside the hotel for a more casual dining experience a few steps from the funicular. Walk inside for a sense of the real rustic Italy, its warmth and its charm – and, most of all, its produce. Fresh cheeses, olive oil and prosecco are either served as bruschetta snacks or sold at this upscale delicatessen. Non-guests are equally welcome to sample the bounty of the region, savoring the flavors while admiring the panoramic view and the magnificent façade of the Nuvole Garden Hotel.

The Bottiglieria:

The hotel's wine vault is filled with an extensive range of local and international fine wines with precious vintages neatly stored behind glass. The furnishings display the inspiration of Zsolnay, the Hungarian ceramics manufacturers whose color combinations and free-flowing Art Nouveau motifs were a hit at the 1900 World Exhibition in Paris, and echo the hotel's own heritage. The space can host private events.

The Spa:

The Spa is open year-round, its Swedish sauna, infrared sauna, steam room, indoor and outdoor pools, jacuzzi and private treatment rooms. The Indoor pool features a hydromassage and a waterfall. The outdoor fountain pool pays homage to La Dolce Vita of 1950s lore, reflecting the hotel's glamorous past. Garden cabanas provide privacy.

Salone:

This elegant space for events can be divided into two sections, decorated with embroidered drapes inspired by the Art Deco iron structure of the glass roof in front of the hotel's main entrance.

Valet parking available.

Rooms and suits (18 types)
